TO THE TEACHER

The EMR program is designed to assist the educable mentally retarded (EMR) student in achieving his potential as a socially, economically, and vocationally independent member of society. This course of study will help the teacher who is guiding the EMR student to become a contributing member of adult society through a program in which the student can "meet" his society in the social studies classroom.

In this publication, the social studies curriculum has been related to other courses in the EMR program. A quick perusal of the content should indicate this correlation. Teachers of EMR students should therefore use the course of study in coordinating instruction to prepare the student for the responsibilities of adult life.

Each unit suggests an interesting variety of classroom materials from which the teacher can judiciously select items for study that satisfy the needs and interests of the individual class.

Certain themes reoccur in each unit to assist the teacher in developing and reinforcing student behaviors relating to courtesy, integrity, thrift, health and safety, respect for law and order, faithfulness, appreciation for family, regulation of leisure time, ability to solve problems, and tolerance for individual differences.

Suggested "time" allotments have been provided for the various units in the course of study. In certain instances a "block" of time has not been allotted for social studies on the master curriculum calendar, even though instruction is suggested in this publication. A balance of content is achieved as the social studies content is integrated with that of other subjects in the curriculum.

The teacher will also find the appendices to be useful in guiding the student as he learns to adjust to the neighborhood and community. Many community agencies offer excellent services in support of this effort. Their addresses have been included when available.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

PURPOSE OF THE PROGRAM FOR EMR STUDENTS

The purpose of the instructional program for educable mentally retarded students in the senior high school is to assist them in becoming well adjusted, contributing, and self-supporting members of their community by meeting realistically their educational and training needs. The program is designed to help students to:

- Understand and adjust to the physical environment.
- Become responsible family members.
- Learn to maintain desirable mental and physical health habits.
- Accept personal and civic responsibility.
- Learn the basic communication, computation, and consumer skills.
- Develop the ability to hold jobs.
- Appreciate beauty and learn desirable leisure-time activities.

PURPOSES OF SOCIAL STUDIES PROGRAM

The social studies program in the senior high school will assist educable mentally retarded pupils to:

- Relate to the physical environment.
- Understand why the earth's resources must be conserved.
- Accept his fellow man and differences in race, religion, creed, or national origins.
- Develop the desire to become self supporting.
- Become adjusted to the social world.
- Appreciate and use the products of man's intelligence.
- Recognize and practice the traditions upon which the nation has been built.
- Acquire knowledge about the history of the United States.
- Practice good citizenship.
- Recognize the advantages of living in the United States.
- Make the best utilization of leisure time.
- Understand and accept adult legal responsibilities.
- Recognize the necessity for practicing thrift.
- Regulate spending by planning for the future.
- Avoid "family life" problems by anticipating and preparing solutions for problems.
- Observe basic practices of health and safety.

 - f. Exploration of jungles and uncharted deserts
 - g. Attempts to verify claims of lost continents, islands, and buried cities
 - h. Search for lost treasure, such as Montezuma's and Lucky Baldwin's, and the Lost Dutchman mine

C. Machinery

- 1. Become familiar with some of the mechanical devices that early explorers used in the discovery and exploration of America.
- 2. Study the effects of automation
 - a. Comparative effects of machinery on man's daily life
 - 1) Pioneer and modern methods of making clothes, cooking, and building
 - 2) Modern teenager in school or at leisure
 - 3) Recreational pursuits of the pioneer
 - b. Worker displacement caused by automated factory equipment
 - c. Machines that displace farm workers such as the tractor, harvester, plow, planter, crop duster, sprinkling system
 - d. Local instances in which machines have displaced man
 - 1) Necessity for developing an expanded number of job skills
 - 2) Advantages of learning to operate many machines
 - 3) Community programs for training machine operators
 - e. Jobs not likely to be eliminated by automation
 - 1) Construction laborer
 - 2) Custodial services
 - 3) Equipment operators
 - 4) Truck drivers
 - 5) Hospital services
 - 6) Food services

- 7) General office
 - 8) Customer services
 - f. Jobs which may some day become automated
3. Recognize the importance of machinery in modern industry.
- a. Local machinery manufacturers
 - b. Manufacturing process from raw material to final product
 - c. Machinery and reduced costs
 - d. Man's reliance on machinery for major production tasks
 - 1) Bridge girders
 - 2) Rocket engine parts
 - 3) Automobile production
4. Note and observe the essential safety precautions in working around machinery.
- a. High mortality rate for workers because of accidents during the Industrial Revolution
 - b. Current statistics on industrial accidents
 - c. Safety requirements set by the Los Angeles City Department of Building and Safety
 - 1) Safety switches on machinery
 - 2) Protected electrical parts
 - 3) Covers on all moving parts
 - 4) Firm foundations for overhead structures
 - 5) Inspection of elevators and other machines used by the public
 - 6) Guard rails on elevated platforms
 - d. Importance of reading and obeying signs posted on or around machinery, such as:

Do Not Touch
 Emergency Power Switch
 Keep Clear
 Caution
 Overhead Cable
 Beware

 - 2) Efficient use
 - a) Closed doors and windows
 - b) Clean filters
 - c) Regular service as preventative maintenance
 - d) Manufacturer's directions
- d. Motor-driven equipment
 - 1) Difference between a motor and an engine
 - 2) Motor "rating" and job specifications
 - 3) Problems resulting from overworked motors
 - a) Household fires
 - b) Replacement costs
 - 4) Service of motors and equipment driven by motors
 - a) Lubricating bearings and bushings if recommended by manufacturer
 - b) Protecting and cleaning breathing spaces for motors
 - 5) Motors matched to correct voltage
 - a) 110 volts as provided in common household outlets

- b) 220 volts as used on major appliances like stoves, power tools
 - c) 440 volts as used on heavy machinery
- e. Safety rules to observe when working with electricity
 - 1) Never touch bare or fallen wires.
 - 2) Never use electric tools, appliances, or cords in or around water, including damp floors and puddles.
 - 3) Never place extension cords where they will be stepped on or bent.
 - 4) Never overload electric lines by using too many cords on a socket.
 - 5) Never "jam" a circuit breaker in an open position.
 - 6) Never attempt to make electrical repairs until electricity is shut off at a fuse box, and not just at a light switch.
 - 7) Never put a finger in a light socket.
 - 8) Never fly kites around electric lines.
 - 9) Hire the appropriate service man to make repairs of a technical nature.
 - 10) Never use electrical equipment with malfunctioning parts or frayed cords.

E. The Engine

1. Recognize how the development of the American West was accelerated by the invention of the steam engine.
 - a. Travel "up stream" before steam-powered boats
 - b. Difficulties in transporting goods from West to East prior to the steam engine.
 - c. Opportunities created by the steam engine for transporting food from the West to the East.
2. Note the rapid movement to the West after the development of the steam engine.
 - a. Comparative travel time for continental crossing by covered wagon, pony express, automobile, trains and jet aircraft
 - b. Comparative problems encountered by travelers in covered wagons and on modern highways
 - 1) Overnight accommodations
 - 2) Food and water supply
 - 3) Road conditions
 - 4) Costs of vehicle operation and maintenance
 - 5) Methods of resolving emergencies
 - 6) Safety
 - a) Deaths caused by sickness or Indian raids on covered wagons
 - b) Statistics on highway accidents death rates

3. Become informed about some basic principles in the care and maintenance of engines.
 - a. Moving parts that must be maintained
 - 1) Internal parts serviced by oil pump
 - 2) Surface parts which must be manually lubricated
 - b. Correct fuels for engines
 - c. Cooling engines
 - 1) Radiator water level
 - 2) Air-cooled engines
 - 3) Condition of fan belts for cracks
 - d. Other maintenance precautions
4. Learn the basic rules of safety to observe when working around engines.
 - a. Review safety rules for working with any machinery.
 - b. Review safety rules for working with electricity.
 - c. Never leave a running engine unattended unless the engine was designed for that purpose.
 - d. Never leave a vehicle while it is moving.
 - e. Maintain engines for family safety in highway or free-way travel.
 - f. Never allow open flames or sparks near engine fuels.
 - g. Never operate an engine in an unventilated garage or room.
 - h. Never stand in the direct line of movement of a fan blade or pulley.
5. Find out about job opportunities for mechanics.
 - a. Local school training programs and community training programs
 - b. Advantages of early training in mechanical skills
 - c. Wage scales
 - d. Need for mechanics in different occupational fields
 - 1) Autos
 - 2) Trucks
 - 3) Heavy construction equipment
 - 4) Machine maintenance in industrial plants
 - 5) Small vehicles
6. Study the influence of Henry Ford on the development of the engine and its applications.
 - a. Assembly line procedures and reductions in cost
 - 1) Comparative costs of handmade goods and those produced on assembly lines
 - 2) Decreased production time; increased output per hour
 - b. Availability of assembly line jobs in the community
 - c. Availability of jobs in local automotive industry
 - d. Origins of other car brand names, such as Pontiac, Chevrolet, Mercury, Chrysler, Edsel

- e. Antique cars
- 7. Discuss methods that a buyer should use to assure satisfaction when purchasing used machinery such as an automobile.
 - a. Advice of mechanics
 - b. Methods of testing parts

F. Air and Space Flight

- 1. Become informed about man's earliest attempts at flight, which culminated in the accomplishment of Wilbur and Orville Wright in 1903.
- 2. Learn about the principles of physics that underlie the theory of space flight.
 - a. The engine
 - b. Wings on an air cushion
 - c. Flaps to direct up-down movements of aircraft
 - d. Rudder to control right-left movements
- 3. Be aware of the effects of air flight on warfare.
 - a. Historical development of air missiles
 - 1) Hand-thrown rock versus sling shot
 - 2) Sling shot versus catapult
 - 3) Arrow versus rifle bullet
 - 4) Rifle versus cannon
 - 5) Cannon versus V-2 rocket
 - 6) V-2 rocket versus ICBM
 - 7) Hand-dropped bombs of World War I versus air-to-ground missiles of today

 - 5) Medical evacuation helicopters and decreased battlefield casualties
 - c. Civil defense shelters and emergency drills
- 4. Recognize the effects of air travel on peace-time living.
 - a. Comparison of air travel time and surface travel time
 - b. Uses of aircraft
 - 1) Air mail
 - 2) Air freight
 - 3) Air ambulances
 - 4) Crop "dusting"
 - 5) Civil Air Patrol
 - a) Search and rescue missions
 - b) Mercy flights

- c) Coastal patrol and national defense effort
 - 6) Fire and police uses of helicopters
 - 7) Freeway traffic advisory information transmitted from aircraft
 - a) Alternate routes
 - b) Street maps to determine routes
 - 8) Blimps
 - a) Possibility of riding in a blimp
 - b) Military uses of blimps in World War II
 - 1 Coastal submarine patrol
 - 2 Entrapment of enemy fighter planes in dangling cables
 - 9) Communication satellites
 - a) Expanded live television coverage
 - b) Telephone relay towers, cross country cables, telegraph
 - c) Round shape of the earth relative to transmission of radio waves
 - 10) Weather satellites
- 5. Develop an appreciation of the effects of manned space flight on the future development of space for man's uses.
- 6. Discover the job opportunities in the local aircraft industry.
 - a. Commercial aircraft production
 - 1) Locations of aircraft plants in the community
 - 2) Poor prospects for job permanence because of fluctuating demands for aircraft production
 - 3) Necessity for precision work in constructing and maintaining aircraft
 - a) Opportunities for training
 - b) Certification of airline mechanics by Federal Aeronautics Administration
 - b. Passenger service
 - 1) Responsibility of worker to represent the company
 - a) Courtesy
 - b) "The customer is always right."
 - c) Protection of customer's personal property
 - 2) Baggage handling
 - 3) Craft maintenance and custodial care of airplanes
 - 4) Passenger comfort and safety
 - c. Airport support operations
 - 1) Civil service positions
 - 2) Jobs with private contractors at the airport
 - a) Waiting on tables in restaurants
 - b) Building and grounds maintenance
 - c) Freight handling
 - d) Trucking
 - e) Parking lot work

7. Become acquainted with the increased use of public air space by privately owned aircraft.
 - a. Rigorous pilot training, testing, and licensing procedures
 - b. Responsibilities of pilots to obey all regulations governing operation of aircraft
 - 1) Use of maps and instruments
 - 2) Understanding of relationship between flying time and nautical speed
 - 3) Use of physical maps to determine flight plans
 - a) Mountain elevations
 - b) Towering obstacles marked with blinking red lights
 - c) Airport locations and emergency landing facilities
 - d) Locations of radio transmitters and special directional signals
 - e. Function of the Federal Aeronautics Administration
 - f. Purposes of private ownership of aircraft

G. Science and Technology

1. Develop an understanding of the contributions of medical science to the increased longevity of man.
